

Hypocrisy Definitions*

Someone who pretends to believe something that they do not really believe or that is the opposite of what they do or say at another time

Someone that is the opposite of what they do or say at another time

A pretense of having a virtuous character or principles that one does not really possess.

The practice of professing beliefs, feelings, or virtues that one does not hold or possess

A lie in action - the legacy of indecency

Prejudice with a halo

Hypocrites kick with their hind feet while licking with their tongues

* In the case of CPSN's point, hypocrisy refers to those politicians on both sides of the isle, and their respective supporters, who have "suddenly" found "religion" (such as debt and deficit consciousness, among other things) since the political leadership in Washington has changed. Your self-analysis answer is in the question "how loudly did I object to anything my party did when they were in charge?"